Suggestions That United States Act Have Been Made President

HONESTY OF ELECTIONS

In the Republic Can Only Be Guaranteed by Force of Arms—No More American Arms to Cross Border.

San Antonio, Texas, July 24.—Official announcement was made today at constitutional headquarters in Piedras Negras of the capture of Torreon, Mexico, by constitutionalists. Fifteen hundred prisoners, twenty cannon and large supplies of ammunition fell into their hands, the constitutionalists claim.

Details of the battle must be carried many miles before they reach telegraph. Constitutionalists expect more news. Torreon is in the state of Coahuila, 200 miles south of the border and on the western edge of the military activities over which Governor Carranza, leader of the Constitutionalists has assumed personal charge. It is one of a chain of six cities covering a rough semicircle three or four hundred miles long extending eastward from Torreon and curving northward to Laredo, Mex., in which Governor Carranza claims to have strong federal forces either checkmated or bottled up.

His announced plan last week was to attack Torreon first, his followers claiming he had 8,000 men against 3,000 federalists in the Torreon garrison. The other principal cities which the Carranza forces claim to be watching are Monclova, Lampazos, Monterey, Saltillo and Nuevo Laredo.

Monclova is already under siege by Constitutionalists.

Washington, July 24.—Discussion of the Mexican situation today turned toward proposals that the United States act as a mediator while elections are held and a constitutional government established.

Although such suggestions have at various times been made by President Wilson, Secretary Bryan and members of congress by persons in this country and Mexico, the proposition has never reached the stage of serious consideration because of the insistent attitude of the constitutionalists that they would not entertain mediation under any circumstances.

Who will guarantee the honesty of an election? The only guarantee we can have is to take possession of the government by arms, put in a provisional president and hold elections when the country is pacified. Elections with most of the country up in arms would be impossible.

This was the answer of the constitutionalists' representatives here today to reports that mediation was about to be undertaken through the offices of the United States. The suggestion is an effort to see in such a proposal an effort on the part of the Huerta government to secure a suspension of hostilities during which it would take retaliatory measures to suppress the constitutionalists' cause. The constitutionalists point out the same kind of proposals were repeatedly made in the declining days of the Diaz administration.

Washington, July 24.—When Ambassador Henry Lane Wilson has finished his conference with the president he will be asked to give the senate foreign relations committee first hand information of the situation in Mexico. Some of the members have not conferred with the President directly upon the rapidly changing aspect. The ambassador is expected here Saturday. (Continued on Page 8, Col. 4.)

Public Funeral For the Unidentified Dead of Binghamton Holocaust

(Associated Press Telegram) Binghamton, N. Y., July 24.—State and local authorities today began an investigation of the circumstances surrounding the fire in the factory of the Binghamton Clothing company in which at least fifty persons, mostly women and girls, lost their lives. Representatives of the state department of labor, the state fire marshal, the state factory investigating commission and the committee of safety of New York were present at today's request, which was conducted by Coroner R. A. Seymour of Whitney Point.

Workers today continued to search the ruins of the burned factory building. Of the 28 bodies thus far recovered only three have been identified.

The others are burned beyond possibility of recognition and will be buried in a plot to be set apart for the city for the unidentified dead. A public funeral is planned for Sunday. The task of compiling a list of the victims of the disaster is progressing slowly. Of those in the hospital four are so badly injured that their recovery is not expected. Besides the seven known dead thirty-four have been reported missing and probably are dead. Fifty-four survivors have been accounted for.

Not until the complete safe has been opened can a complete list of the employees of the clothing company, dead, living and missing, be made. The safe was uncovered late last night but was so hot no attempt was made to open it.

VICTORY IN TUSCARAWAS

Washington, July 24.—Brief announcement was made yesterday of the name of W. T. Ashbrook being sent to the senate for his appointment as postmaster of New Philadelphia, Ohio. It was a preliminary victory for Congressman A. Ashbrook of the 17th district, who recommended the appointment of Ashbrook and took a strong stand in his behalf.

J. E. Hurst, editor of the New Philadelphia Times and chief of the unsuccessful candidates for the postmastership, had been making a vigorous fight on Ashbrook, claiming his appointment was made to give Representative Ashbrook strength in Ashland county, where Ashbrook formerly lived, and which has been attached to Ashbrook's Congressional district. The Seventeenth, by the recent gerrymander, which also subordinated Tuscarawas county.

The fight on Ashbrook now will be waged in the senate. Those opposing the nomination have furnished Senator T. E. Burton with facts to which the latter will give serious consideration before permitting confirmation.

It is claimed that Burton will oppose the confirmation of any Democrat from New Philadelphia because of the fact that Korns, the present postmaster's reappointment by Taft at the close of his administration was upheld by the Democrats of the Senate.

OFFICERS KILL
THE WRONG MAN

(Associated Press Telegram) Newark, N. J., July 24.—W. T. Butler of Knoxville, was shot and killed today at Dover by police officers who mistook him for William Corduan, husband of the woman who was found dead yesterday with a hole in the roof of her mouth, and for whom the police were looking. Corduan was arrested later. In the dark of the early morning, the police mistook Butler for Corduan and one of them opened fire.

MEN RISK LIVES
IN THE NIAGARA
TO SAVE CANINE

(Associated Press Telegram) Niagara Falls, N. Y., July 24.—Two men risked going through the falls that they might save a small dog, which fell off the rocks only a short distance above the catwalk last evening. The animal had been running along the river bank and slipped into the water, about 100 feet above the falls. It was quickly swept down the river, but finally managed to get a slight foothold and clung for his life. Constable Alexander and Frank Constable went to the rescue. Constable Alexander's hand was washed out into the swift current. He reached the dog and brought him safely to shore. A woman who saw the rescue asked for the dog as a souvenir and it was given to her.

AUTOMOBILES
OF 2 AT DAYTON

Dayton, July 24.—Mrs. Bertha Watts, aged 38, of Dayton was instantly killed when struck by an eastbound Ohio Electric traction car at Tipple's crossing, near Harshmanville last night. Nine members of the Watts family were driving in a buggy. The vehicle was struck by an automobile at the crossing and overturned. All of the family crawled out from under the buggy except a daughter, who was injured. Mrs. Watts was struck by the traction car while crossing the tracks to go to the aid of her injured daughter.

Ruth Dosher, 9 years old, was almost instantly killed when struck by a speeding automobile a few miles south of the city last night. With three girl companions, she was walking along the road. She became confused when she heard the automobile horn and saw the fast approaching machine while running across the road directly in its path. She was struck and horribly mangled. The automobile was driven by Benjamin Lewis of this city, it is said.

PRESIDENT OF NEW HAVEN RAILWAY WILL BE CHOSEN TODAY.

Howard Elliott, Receiving $100,000 As President of Northern Pacific May Be Elected.

(Associated Press Telegram) New York, July 24.—The next president of the New Haven railway will be chosen today by the sub-committee of directors appointed for this purpose when the board accepted the resignation of President McEllon. This committee has power only to recommend and the name of the head of the New Haven may not be announced until the committee's choice is ratified by the directors at their meeting tomorrow.

Howard Elliott, who receives $100,000 a year as president of the Northern Pacific, has been in town since yesterday, and Wall Street believes that he would be the man selected. Mr. Elliott has held frequent conferences with members of the sub-committee. "I have been careful not to say that I would not accept the presidency of the New Haven," he said in an interview.

ANOTHER FIRE
AT SING SING

(Associated Press Telegram) Ossining, N. Y., July 24.—Another fire at Sing Sing prison today gave the mutinous convicts a chance for more riotous demonstrations. The blaze started in the clothing shop and the prison fire brigade extinguished it after a hard fight without second aid.

It was the second week in the prison buildings this month, notwithstanding the fact that the guards had been doubled since $150,000 worth of property was burned up there two days ago. Although it is generally believed that the fires were started by convicts the warden has been unable to place the blame.

When the fire broke out today in the clothing shop the whistles were blown and every precaution was taken to guard against the escape of convicts.

BLOWN SKYWARD
BY DYNAMITE

(Associated Press Telegram) Rochester, N. Y., July 24.—Seven sticks of dynamite which John Everett was carrying in a basket out of a shed in the heart of the town of Oneonta this morning, exploded and blew Everett to pieces. The shed disappeared skyward, nearby buildings rocked, windows were broken from a wide area and residents thrown into a panic. Only bits of Everett's body were recovered.

SHERIFF ASKS FOR MILITIA

Situation Is Serious On Account of Copper Miners' Strike

MANY MILLS SHUT DOWN

Tie-up Complete in Calumet, Mich., District—A Large Number of Deputies are Sworn in This Morning.

(Associated Press Telegram) Lansing, Mich., July 24.—The governor's office this afternoon received a message from the sheriff at Calumet, stating that he was in the hands of a mob of 500 men and that another mob of 500 was on the way to Calumet from Ahmeek, a small mining town near Calumet.

(Associated Press Telegram) Calumet, July 24.—Strike violence occasioned by yesterday's walkout of copper miners of this district grew bitter today and he wired Governor Crane asking that state troops be dispatched to maintain order. The local militia companies were ordered to hold themselves in readiness for service pending word from the governor, who, it is understood, is on his way to Alpena from Lansing.

Stamp mills as well as mines are now shut down in the Lake Superior District because of the miners' strike. The tie-up is complete with the exception of the few mines, which have enough mineral on hand to operate for a week or more. Calumet and Hecla conglomerate shafts at the Calumet branch where worked yesterday, closed last night when the strikers prevented men from going to work. Franklin and Hancock mines which also worked yesterday, suspended last evening.

Mining Captain Thomas Matthews of the Calumet and Hecla mines was attacked by the strikers last night and knocked unconscious. A large number of strikers went in bodies from one shaft to another and several loyal representatives were attacked with stones and painfully hurt.

At No. 2 cage house of the Calumet and Hecla a body of strikers was prevented from taking occupation by the mining captain who drew a revolver and threatened to shoot. This morning strikers gathered about the shafts to keep the men with dinner pails away. A large number of deputies have been sworn in and it is believed they can control the situation for the present at least. It is understood the companies will make no effort now to reopen the mines.

George Danblom, aged 39, was so badly beaten that he may die. Geo. Unsworth, chief engineer at the Superior mine, was hit about the throat while defending his hoisting plant.

Aurust Beck, chief of the Calumet and Hecla police staff was beaten last night but recovered and is again in charge of protective measures. J. Kenneth McLeod, engineer at the Red Jacket shaft, had his nose broken by a stone.

At noon the disturbances had ceased temporarily.

DELAIRY BY WRECK. Bay City, Mich., July 24.—Governor Ferris on his way to Calumet, but delayed here on account of a railroad wreck, said he would not grant the sheriff's request for state troops only as a last resort. He said he believed the sheriff's message was "anticipatory."

SUBURBANITE MEETS DEATH. Cleveland, July 24.—In getting out of the way of an automobile a suburban, chief engineer at the Superior mine, was hit about the throat while defending his hoisting plant.

At noon the disturbances had ceased temporarily.

WOMEN'S DRESS—A YARD OF NOTHING. Cincinnati, July 24.—Slashed skirts, low-necked and short sleeved gowns and other fashions that the director of missions has deemed shall be worn by the feminine sex, have been tabooed by Rev. Jas. Conlin of St. Rose's Catholic church who, in commenting upon women's dress, called it "immoral and blamed it for much immorality." He described present fashion as "decadent gowns, apologies for sleeves, a wisp of cloth and a yard of nothing," and declared "To dress for attendance at the house of God in clothes suggesting a ball room or a recreation pier is disgraceful, and hereafter women with slashed skirts, transparent waists, low-necked and short sleeved gowns will be refused admittance at St. Rose's Catholic church."

First Photograph of Pope Pius Taken Since Illness.

That Pope Pius has fully regained his health, as far as his appearance goes, is indicated by photographs which have just arrived in the United States. These were the first taken since March, when his life was despaired of. The photographs show him to be as powerful and heavy as ever, and there is nothing to indicate that he has any kind of weakness.

Delay In Arbitration Is Costing Trainmen $8,000
A Day For Committeemen

(Associated Press Telegram) New York, July 24.—The truce between the eastern railroads and their conductors and trainmen, pending attempts to adjust difficulties, continued today, but the employees showed they were growing restive. The delay in settling terms of arbitration, they say, is costing the unions $8,000 a day, for they are obliged to pay the expenses of more than 1,000 members of committees representing the various locals, who have not gone back to their locomotives since the declaration of the strike vote. The men said today that they were not satisfied with the concessions made yesterday by the railroad managers. These concessions, it was understood, were the dropping of three of the eight grievances the railroads have asked to have arbitrated in connection with the demands of the men.

WILL TEST VALIDITY OF
NEW CHARTER

(Associated Press Telegram) Columbus, July 24.—The question of the validity of the charter recently adopted by the city of Cleveland will be submitted to the supreme court without having to go through the tedious process of the lower courts first. Judge Donahue of the Supreme court today permitted Attorney General Hogan to file the case eliminating the lower court hearings. The principal point involved is whether the charter violates the statutes and organic law in doing away with primary elections and substituting nominations by petitions.

Cleveland cannot abrogate the regular methods of election machinery and that the provisions attaching to abolish primary elections are void.

Mayor Baker and others who framed the charter which was recently adopted in Cleveland will make a hard fight to have the charter provisions sustained. Both sides will file briefs on the case within ten days so that a decision may be rendered in the September primaries.

An injunction suit, restraining the Cuyahoga county board of elections from holding a primary election, recently was filed in the common pleas court at Cleveland by opponents of the non-partisan plan. In a formal way, the injunction was granted with the understanding that the case was to be carried to the higher courts. Judge Donahue's order permits supporters of the non-partisan plan to carry the case directly to the supreme court, eliminating any delay which might arise in the circuit and appellate courts.

The decision in the case is anxiously awaited by other cities throughout the state where charters have been adopted. They are desirous of knowing whether the home rule charters abrogate the general laws of the state in the matter of holding non-partisan elections. The home rule amendment to the constitution provides that cities, by vote of their people, may enjoy any or all of the powers of the non-partisan plan to carry the case directly to the supreme court, eliminating any delay which might arise in the circuit and appellate courts.

If the court decides against the home rule supporters, it is expected that an effort will be made to amend the election laws at the special session of the legislature next year.

It takes two people to make a quarrel, but a dozen or more usually take a hand in it before it is patched up.

GUN POWDER
EXPLODES; 7
MEN KILLED

(Associated Press Telegram) Montreal, July 24.—Seven men were blown to pieces today by the explosion of a ton of gun powder at the plant of the Canadian Explosive Co., at Beloeil. Pieces of the brick and wood fell a mile away. The cause of the explosion is unknown.

SERIOUS ERROR
IN LEGISLATION IS DISCOVERED

(Associated Press Telegram) Columbus, July 21.—An error in legislation that may prove the most serious yet discovered was found today in the Friebohn law, Senate bill 36, which provides for the election of a chief justice of the supreme court and the appointment of one by the governor to serve until the next election; the election of the other members of the supreme court and the judges of the court of appeals, fixes the salaries of all the judges of the state and prescribes the jurisdiction, organization and procedure of the courts.

The bill as signed by the president officers of the two houses and approved by the governor, shows by official endorsements that it was passed April 29, 1913. Also that it was approved by the governor on May 6 and filed with the secretary of state on May 8.

The journals of the two houses of the legislature show that the legislature adjourned, in accordance with a joint resolution at 6 p. m. on April 24, a day previous to that on which the Friebohn bill by its records appears to have been passed. The records of the legislature show that the legislature was adjourned at the time, when the Friebohn law claims to have been enacted. The fact of the matter is that the legislature actually in session, because of pressure of business, because until the evening of April 30 but at the final session, beginning on April 28, was kept on the journal as one and the same legislative day—the twenty-eighth.

LETTERS IN THE RECORD

Read Rep. Cole the "Riot Act" for Aiding Former Speaker Cannon

CONFIDENT OF SUCCESS

Lobbyist Wrote of Plans to Squelch Labor Legislation—Says Sought Aid.

(Associated Press Telegram) Washington, July 24.—Senator Cummins, author of the resolution under which the senate committee is investigating the "lobby" today added his denial to statements of Martin M. Mulhall, one-time lobbyist for the National Association of Manufacturers. In a letter to John Kirby, president of the association, Mulhall told of meeting Senator Cummins and going to the room of the late Senator Dolliver where they talked about a speech to be made in the house by Representative Kendall of Iowa. Senator Cummins denied that statement categorically.

"I have no recollection of seeing Mulhall or speaking to him on any subject but I am not prepared to say that I have not said Senator Cummins. 'But I am certain that I did not have any conversation with him about the speech bill. I am certain on the eight hour bill. I am certain I never went into Dolliver's room with him and I am certain that I never had any conversation with him there.' Mulhall leaned forward in the wretched chair and shouted: 'You're getting tired or not. It makes no difference to me; if you don't tell the truth I'm going to deny it,' replied Senator Cummins.

Under a fire of questions Mulhall testified he did not know where Dolliver's room was. Mulhall had written in his letter that he and Senator Cummins retired to a "private room" to confer. "As a matter of fact," Mulhall observed Senator Cummins, "the room there occupied by Senator Dolliver, was a single room. I don't care to cross-examine this witness any further."

Mulhall declared that he had no intimation of implying that Senator Cummins had done anything wrong, and the senator replied that he was not making an explanation because he believed himself involved in any way but because he believed Mulhall's statements were incorrect. Mulhall added that the Manufacturers' Association was opposed to Senator Cummins' legislation. He was known to favor an eight hour bill and declared that if the committee investigated the situation properly it would find that it "chased Senator Cummins all over Iowa."

Before he got to the Cummins matter, Mulhall told the committee that he, Counsel Eddy and others had a "secret room" in the basement of the house side of the capitol where they conferred and made long distance telephone calls. He said that the room had been furnished by Representative McPherson of Illinois. The committee did not go into the subject in detail.

Washington, July 24.—Martin M. Mulhall's correspondence first put in the record of the senate lobby committee today concerned his efforts to beat Representative Herbert Parsons of New York for re-election in 1910, told of reading the "Riot Act" to Representative Ralph D. Cole of Ohio, because of his effort to aid Former Speaker Cannon and gave further details of Mulhall's offer to aid the candidacy of George Gordon Battle for governor of New York.

February 3, 1910, Mulhall wrote John Kirby, Jr., about the fight on Cannon and added: "Mr. Sherman confidently stated to me that President Taft is now being made aware of the many good things our association has done for the Republican party for the last seven years." (Continued on Page 8, Col. 1.)

NEWARK MAN
MAY BE PRESIDENT OF GAS COMPANY

Beman G. Dawes, of Marietta, formerly of Newark, was chosen as director of the Cuyahoga Gas and Fuel company, to succeed Henry D. Turner, resigned, and will, it is expected, take his place as president. At Cuyahoga announcement is made that arrangements are being made for a sufficient supply of gas for the coming winter. It is also said that development of the oil and gas territory of the company will be instituted, the intimation being given that this work has been neglected. The company has a surplus of $300,000 from its oil earnings, which showed a profit in July of $25,000.

LONG SHOT WINS THE RICH $10,000 STAKE

Tenara Beat Out Favorite in Three Straight Heats at Ft. Erie Track.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) Buffalo, N. Y., July 24.—The Grand Circuit trotters and pacers had four races today as the close of their three-day engagement at Fort Erie. The meeting has been one of the most successful in fifteen years. In the 2:11 class for pacers, the side wheelers had their first opportunity of the year to race for a $5,000 purse. Del Rey, 2:04 1-4, the unbeaten pacer of the year was expected to duplicate his winning performances at Cleveland and Pittsburgh, although he had for a rival the sensational Canadian pacer Grattan Royal, that worked a mile in 2:03 3-4, a few weeks ago.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) Ft. Erie, July 24.—Starting a 3:01 shot in the auction, the mare Tenara yesterday afternoon won the King George V. stakes for 2:16 trotters, the first of the 1913 $10,000 events to be raced, at the Ft. Erie track. Her victory was all the more sensational as her stable companion, Uncle Diff, was the heavily played favorite, driven by Billy Andrews, who entrusted the fortunes of Tenara to the boy driver, Jimmy Benyon, and had to be content with third place in the summary, while that young tumbler gained the glory of driving the winner in the first of the rich classes of the season.

The racing throughout was much better than that of the opening day and the 2:14 pace was so long drawn out that it was 7 o'clock before the program was finished. The judges also furnished a little diversion by declaring all bets off in this event and finding the winning driver for not putting loose earlier in the race. The Cleveland parties who were scorched playing Uncle Diff at North Randall two weeks ago made that horse favorite for the big stake, he selling for $200, Judson Girl $80, Mundy C $45, Santos Maid $25, Enabel $20, Tenara $15, Baron Bellay and Reusens $10 each and the field $12. The field was a troublesome one for the starter and when they finally got off the favorite went to a break. Benyon took Tenara to the front and never was headed. Cox brought Judson Girl up fast in the stretch and landed the place, with Enabel third. The favorite was on his bad behavior again in the second and the result was the same. Tenara easily beating Judson Girl Andrews got Uncle Diff away flying in the third round and raced with Tenara all the way, but could not

Three Great Athletes Who Retained Their Titles at National Championship Meet

Reputation were made and lost with bewildering rapidity at the recent national A. A. U. championships, but among the dozens of great underpach champions who showed their wares at the big Windy City meeting there were three whose work in the track and field events stood the acid test of the hardest kind of competition.

Carroll B. Haff of the University of Michigan, Dan Ahrens of the Illinois A. C. and A. M. Richards of Brigham Young University, Utah, went into the "Nationals" with great reputations, and came through the big competitions still possessing them. Haff is one of the fastest men developed in the colleges in recent years. For two years running he has run the quarter-mile at the intercollegiate games in 48 2-5 seconds—a feat never performed before by any runner. Haff easily qualified for the first heat of the 400-meter race at Stockholm last summer, but he was not quite in shape to battle successfully against the great brand of running shown by Charley Reidpath and Hans Braun of Germany.

Dan Ahrens, holder of the world's record for the running hop, quite reach, Benyon in a pretty drive landing the mare first by a head in 2:03 1-2, a new record for her.

The winner is owned by John E. Madden, of Lexington, Ky., and is a candidate for the M. and M. and other rich stakes. Favorite players also got in bad on the stakes for 2:08 trotters, in which they selected Cascade, who had won both of his previous stakes this season. He was on his bad behavior, while the Texas mare, Cheeny, who, up to today had failed to show her 1912 form, was good, winning the first two heats, which gave her first money. She broke in the final round and was beaten, but was awarded first place as the race was a three-heat affair. The Cincinnati mare, Ruth McGregor, was the winner of the final heat, beating Robert Milrod in a close finish.

Blue Line and the Assessor were heavily played for the 2:14 pace. The latter won the first heat, then Blue Line took one. About this time the followers of the California mare, Genta J., sent their money into the ring, and her driver, who had been riding easy in the first two heats, put her on the line. She broke and the heat went to the Assessor. The next three heats were easy for the mare from the coast; then the judges took action. Fred Childs, the early starter of the race, and declared his pool on the latter action being a hot mystery, as there was no question but that the best horse won.

The Cleveland matinee trotter, Dingo F., was a strong favorite for the 2:15 heat, and only had to parade three heats to win. The meeting ends today with the $7,500 pacing stakes the feature in which the Cox entry, Del Rey, is expected to be a strong favorite.

Today in Pugilistic Annals.

1833—Jem Belcher, the Bristol butcher who had won the championship of England by defeating all comers, was knocked out by a ball while playing racquets. Belcher was blinded by the accident, and had to relinquish the title. Joseph Berks, who had been defeated by Jem, claimed the championship but lost it to Henry Pearce, who in turn was succeeded by Gally and Cribb. Belcher, half blind, sought to recover his laurels by fighting Cribb, and in the early rounds had Cribb almost out, but lost in the end.

1905—Jack Johnson outpointed Joe Grim in 6 rounds at Philadelphia.

1907—Peter Sullivan defeated Cyclone Johnny Thompson in 20 rounds at Ogden.

France last year imported American coal valued at $126,755.

step and jump, despite a temporary retirement, was as good as ever in his favorite event at Chicago. Ahrens is one of those slender Irishmen who remain good for many years. The chances are that he will still be jumping to records ten years from now. Dan is not a pound heavier than he was five years ago and he has not lost an ounce of his great springing power.

Athletic experts have criticized more than once the jumping style of Richards, the youth from the Mormon country, who won the world's high jumping championship at Stockholm last summer. Richards is a forward about clearing the bar, but he clears it, and that's the most important thing. Last summer on the Olympic trip some of the coaches suggested to Richards that if he would change his style he might do even better. "No, I won't try anything new," he answered. "I can do 6 feet 4 inches the way I jump and that's good enough to win any place." Before the games at Stockholm Richards predicted that 6 feet 4 inches would win the Olympic high jump. "And I know I can do it," he added. His winning jump measured up 6 feet 3 7-8 inches.

CHATTANOOGA ENCAMPMENT ASSOCIATION

Receiving Letters Daily From Veterans Who Expect to Attend The G. A. R. Reunion.

Chattanooga, Tenn., July 24.—When war was declared between the North and South in 1861, mere boys enlisted for service in the field. Such enlistments were not confined to any one section of the army. The North as well as the South sent boys of fifteen or sixteen years to battle. They made good soldiers, and it is due to their enlistment at tender years that the survivors of those dreadful days are so numerous today.

Letters are being received almost every day by the Chattanooga Encampment association, now preparing to entertain the 17th National Encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic in September, from old men in the northern states giving in brief and somewhat ragged outline their experiences in the south when tented fields and battle-riven forests were the rule rather than the exception. These letters throw a flood of light on the life of the young soldiers in the Civil War.

One of the most interesting letters of this kind that has been received in Chattanooga is from Capt. D. G. James, of Richmond Center, Wisconsin, now a man seventy years old. Capt. James is a member at present of the National Council of Administration, G. A. R., and writes that he is coming to the Chattanooga encampment and try to locate some of the points he visited in Tennessee as a private soldier during the war.

As a boy of sixteen, Capt. James enlisted in the 16th Wisconsin infantry regiment. This regiment left Wisconsin March 15, 1862, and reached Tennessee in time for the battle of Shiloh, where young James received his first baptism of fire. From Shiloh he went to Corinth, passed through that siege and battle and was with Grant's army in the Mississippi campaign until the surrender at Holly Springs. Later he was attached to McArthur's division of the 17th army corps, after the Vicksburg siege, until 1864 when he went home on a furlough.

In April 1864, he was attached to the third division of the 17th army corps and went through the Atlanta campaign. Capt. James says: "On the 21st of July my regiment and the 12th Wisconsin charged the Confederate works on the right (Battle of Atlanta) manned by Cleburne's division, capturing same and held the position on the hill, known as Bald Hill and later as Leggett Hill in honor of Gen. Leggett, who commanded the division. On the morning of the 22nd two companies of my regiment were ordered out to reconnoiter, and in the mix-up that day I was taken prisoner. I reached Andersonville prison July 28, escaped September 12, but was recaptured and taken to Florence, S. C., from which prison I made another successful effort to escape and was returned to the stockade where I was confined until February 17, 1865. I was paroled and taken to Wilmington, N. C., then to Goldsboro, N. C., where I was paroled again, reaching our lines on the north branch of Cape Fear river. I was mustered out of service at Louisville, Ky., July 18, 1865."

Twenty-ninth Day of July, 1914.
The above proposals shall be for furnishing the necessary labor and material for the erection and completion of a fireproof High and Grade School building, in accordance with the plans and specifications on file with the Clerk of the Board of Education, Mr. C. H. Morrison, Lebanon, Ohio, at the offices of Howard & Morrill, Architects, 8 East Broad Street, Columbus, Ohio, and at the Builders Exchange, Columbus, Ohio, and in addition to the above plans, five sets have been given to the Clerk of the Board of Education, Mr. C. H. Morrison, which copies are to be distributed to general contractors only at the discretion of the Clerk of the Board.

Any contractor desiring a copy of the plans and specifications for his own use in figuring the work will be furnished these plans upon making a deposit of $10.00 with the architect. When the contract is let, these plans if returned in good condition, the above money will be refunded.

Any bid may be withdrawn after having been filed with the Clerk of the Board of Education, until time for closing bids. Bids shall be in sealed envelopes addressed to Mr. C. H. Morrison, Clerk of the Board of Education, Lebanon, Ohio.

Each proposal must contain the full name of every person interested in same, and must be submitted on blank forms, which forms will be furnished upon application to either the Clerk or the Board of Education, or the Architects.

Bids will be received as follows: Bids for labor and material must be separately stated.

Bids will be received for the general construction of the entire work, including heating and ventilating, plumbing, gas fitting and sewerage.

Separate bids will be received for the heating, ventilating, plumbing, gas fitting and sewerage.

Bond on Proposal.
Each proposal must be accompanied by a sufficient surety bond to the owner, to the amount of 10 per cent of the total amount of the proposal, as a guarantee that if successful, the contractor submitting the proposal will enter into a contract immediately and begin actual work within ten days after the contract is properly executed.

Should any bid be rejected, the above surety will be returned forthwith to the bidder. The surety of the successful bidder will be returned upon proper execution of the contract.

Bond.
The successful bidder for any part of the work shall furnish the owner with a satisfactory surety bond, which bond shall be approved by the attorney for the Board of Education, in an amount equal to 50 per cent of the contract price, conditioned upon the successful performance of the contract and full payment by said contractor for all labor and material in accordance with the existing laws in the State of Ohio.

GIRL OF 14 DISAPPEARS FROM HOME

Thought She May Have Eloped to Newport, Ky.—Local Authorities Begun Search.

Juvenile court officers have been pressed into service in an effort to locate 14-year-old Lucila Sachs who disappeared from her home in Buyleston avenue, East Newark, on Monday afternoon.

Early last week Miss Sachs was reprimanded by Juvenile Officer, Mary Miller, when the girl was heard making an appointment with a stranger over the telephone from Mrs. Miller's office in the courthouse basement.

Authorities have learned that the Sachs girl told a neighbor's child that she was going to Newport, Ky., to get married, and is said to have displayed money she said was furnished for her for the purpose of taking the trip. She failed to appear in Newark, however, according to officers there.

A diligent search is being instituted and while authorities are seeking the aid of forces elsewhere they are not overlooking the possibility that the girl may yet be in seclusion in Newark.

The girl's parents are in moderate circumstances and her father is employed at the Hetsay Glass factory.

When last seen Miss Sachs was dressed in white, with a gray coat trimmed in blue, wore white shoes and a white "washrag" hat.

Her mother had no intimation of any irregularities in her daughter's conduct until the girl was missed in the afternoon, Monday. Hoping she would return, Mrs. Sachs failed to report the disappearance until Wednesday afternoon. Authorities, realizing the handicap of time, got busy at once.

DR. ENGLE WILL LOCATE IN NEWARK

Returns After Vacation to Resume His Practice Here and to Make This His Home.

It will no doubt be good news to many of our readers to know that the celebrated physician, Dr. Engle, has returned after an extended vacation and will enter into business for himself and make this his permanent home.

To many of our readers, the Doctor needs no introduction, but for the benefit of those who do not know him we will say that the Doctor is a graduate of all three of the leading schools of medicine, and has also investigated the merits of Osteopathy and Chiropractic. He endeavors to use only the best from all systems of practice and has made a flattering success of his idea.

Dr. Engle has fitted an office at Suite 506, Newark Trust Bldg., Newark, O., where he will be pleased to meet his old patrons and many new ones.

The Doctor treats successfully all chronic diseases of stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels, catarrh, gonorrhea, private ailments of men and women, skin diseases, and rectal troubles.

During the balance of July and all of August, the Doctor is making a Free Treatment-Office that it will pay you to investigate.

Consultation and advice free. Cost of treatment reasonable.

News From Over the State

Lightning at Wooster.

Wooster, July 24.—Three bolts of lightning struck and damaged three of the college buildings during a storm here yesterday. One bolt destroyed a chimney and part of the roof of Renard hall, a dormitory. Another struck a tree and glanced striking Kaue hall. A third struck the chemical laboratory building and severely shocked several students who were experimenting with electrical apparatus.

$50 Shortage is Alleged.

Xenia, July 24.—An alleged shortage of $50 in the fee fund of County Auditor Walter L. Dean is shown by the report of Special Examiner John A. Bliss, who made the probe two weeks ago, at the request of the county commissioners. During the few days the investigation was in progress the auditor paid into his fee fund $300.

Accused of Forgery.

Fostoria, July 24.—After several alleged attempts to exchange checks bearing the name of Amanda Rife of Pemberville, for goods and receive a difference, William Miller and Joseph Fletcher were arrested, charged with forgery. They waived examination and were bound over to the grand jury.

Fremont Wants Niagara.

Fremont, July 24.—Agitation has been started to bring the Perry ship Niagara to Fremont on the day of the celebration, August 2. It is believed she can easily be brought through Sandusky Bay from the lake and by the river over the same course taken by the English gunboats previous to the battle of Fort Stephenson in 1812.

Found Body in River.

Ashtabula, July 24.—Wm. Leahy, secretary of local No. 8, Lake Fishermen's union, disappeared Monday. His body was found in the river yesterday.

Mutes to Have a Picnic.

Dayton, July 24.—Invitations have been sent out by the Deaf Mute society of this city to mutes throughout western Ohio to attend a picnic to be held here August 2. The program comprehends addresses in the sign language. There will be a basket dinner and dancing will be a feature.

SPEED FIENDS MUST ANSWER TO THE PROSECUTOR

List of Names Secured of Speeders And They Will Be Brought Into Court.

Warnings issued some time ago to speeders by county and city authorities seem to have missed the lasting effects desired and County Prosecutor J. Howard Jones launched his anti-speed campaign in earnest Thursday. By 8.30 a. m. he had secured the numbers of four speeders who had shown disregard for ordinances and lives of pedestrians. Three of these were motorcyclists and one was the driver of an automobile.

Among those on the prosecutor's list was a Toledoan who is said to have endeavored to show Newarkites how they burn the asphalt in the town on Lake Erie.

The prosecutor announced early in the day that he expected to file affidavits when he completed his list, but he couldn't say how big a list there would be or with what court he would file the charges. He sought co-operation of the Newark police department to bring the speeders in.

Residents of nearly every well paved residence street in Newark have registered complaints against speeders in the past few days. East Main, West Main, Hudson avenue, North Fourth and Granville road are favorite thoroughfares for those who don't use speedometers.

First Things

The first love letter, among those now in existence, was written 2099 years ago today, by one Isias to Hephastion, her husband. This papyrus missive, bearing date of July 24, 186 B. C., was recently found in the ruins of a temple in Memphis, the ancient metropolis of Egypt. The epistle, although full of endearments indicated that the husband to whom it was addressed had deserted his spouse, who begged him to return. The writer complains of "the high price of corn," and declares that she, her child and her mother-in-law are "utterly distressed." A subsequent letter informs the recreant husband that their child is dead. It seems that the deserted wife was in sore straits and had to visit a pawnshop, as she writes, "I took all the jewels and trinkets of myself and your mother to Senapius, son of Ape and had from him 100 drachmas of silver." The writer adds pathetically, "This is some long enough and the child is dead." Can a wife high and dry possess notice had been served on Isias by a cruel landlord is indicated by the statement, "I have nothing left, and tomorrow I go forth out of the house I know not where." Who can conjecture the fate of the deserted wife?

Probe Fire Rates.

Cleveland, July 24.—Meeting as the Ohio legislators' committee for the investigation of fire insurance rates, Senators Mooney, Bernstein and Moore and Representative Robinson, Guthrie and Snyder conducted an investigation into the system of fixing rates in this city.

State Superintendent of Insurance E. H. Moore examined a system proposed by A. F. Deane, a Chicago rating expert. "We are trying from evidence to reach a conclusion as to whether it is a fair system," said Senator Mooney.

After the meeting here, the committee will go to Columbus to formulate its findings.

Prisoners To Be Paid.

Columbus, July 24.—There is no danger of penitentiary prisoners suddenly becoming wealthy after the law providing wages for them goes into effect next month. Warden Thomas has spent considerable time recently in an effort to calculate a proper wage scale for the large variety of employment in which prisoners are engaged.

The warden insists in the first place that the 48 cents a day which it costs to maintain each prisoner must be regarded as a part of the wages. Above this the compensation will vary from 1 to 7 cents each working hour.

Steubenville Celebration.

Steubenville, July 24.—Commemorating the victory of American armies in three wars, thousands of persons from Ohio, western Pennsylvania and neighboring parts of West Virginia gathered here yesterday at the beginning of a three days' celebration.

A tablet to the memory of Judge James Wilson, a pioneer resident of the city and grandfather of President Wilson, will be unveiled. President Wilson sent a letter regretting his inability to attend, but the Wilson family is represented by more than 50 members.

On Second Thought

Listen! There's reason for the slit skirt after all. Miss Helen Brasmeth of Pittsburgh gownned in an expose outfit escaped the onslaught of a maddened steer yesterday while Mrs. Harvey Wallace, attended in an absolute hobble went down and was trampled by the animal.

Tank Beverly, who is franker than most, says he does not wish to be rich because of the good money would enable him to do. Tank says he wants money because it would permit him to work less and live more luxuriously.

A supreme test in efficiency finally has been established. A ball player has been released because he wasn't good enough for the New York Americans.

A man is as old as the back of his neck and the hair in his ears. In a city the men arise around eight o'clock and work from six to eight hours. In a small town the men arise at five or six o'clock and loaf fourteen hours.

If you wish sentiment and prejudice to influence the verdict, leave it to a jury.

Readers' Viewpoint

Editor Advocate:—It appears that the city council takes the wrong meaning as to the request of the Texas citizens to protect their property. Texas does not ask that the streets be filled, only that some way be provided to keep them from washing out any more than they have; this could be done at a small cost now as compared to what it will cost later. We have asked that the situation be investigated, but it appears that Texas does not belong to Newark. A petition signed by Texas citizens some time since and presented to the council was apparently ignored. Now all we ask is a square deal.

MAN SURPRISED AT QUICK CURE

HAD DOCTORED FIVE YEARS WITH DIFFERENT DOCTORS WITHOUT RESULTS.

Results of One Month Under United Doctors Surprises Himself And Friends.

"For many years I have suffered from a complication of troubles," said Mr. G. W. Graham, of Corry Route No. 1, Erie, Pa., "and though I treated with three of our best doctors during the last five years, I have grown constantly worse instead of better."

"I had noticed the wonderful cures accomplished by the United Doctors, I had become almost hopeless and felt that no one could do me any good, I finally made up my mind to go and see them and find out what they might be able to do."

"Now though I have been treating just a month I want to make this public statement of what the United Doctors have accomplished in my case and to give them every word of praise they deserve. When I went to the United Doctors I was barely able to walk and owing to shortness of breath and would have to stop and rest frequently. I could hardly attend to even the lightest work on my farm and owing to pains from rheumatism which was also bothering me, and a chronic cough which interfered with my rest at night, I was fast becoming a wreck. This one month's treatment under the United Doctors has worked wonders in my case. I have no pains. I can eat and sleep well as ever, my cough is gone and I can hardly believe that it was possible for so much to be done for me. My neighbors and friends all tell me I look like a different man. And this is all due to the United Doctors."

The above is but a sample of the work that is being done by the United Doctors, not only in their Newark institute but in their institutes all over the country.

The Erie institute is located on the second floor at 815 State street and occupies the entire second floor. No one need hesitate about calling on the United Doctors as their treatment is safe and their terms are within the reach of every sick person.

The Newark institute is located on the second floor of the Arcade building in suites 39 and 40. The entrance to the United Doctors offices is just inside the Arcade entrance and while very private it is easily found. adv.

DOGS MENACE TO SHEEP INDUSTRY

With 646 sheep making the total killed and injured for which claims have been presented in this county by sheep breeders and with a total amount of damage placed at $2,199.60, it is said there is a slight decrease in the havoc wrought by dogs this year.

Figures submitted by Auditor Riley show that 526 sheep have been reported killed, and 120 injured.

Statistics gathered by the state department of agriculture show that the total damage reported from all counties of the state amounts to $15,497.26, with 20,085 sheep killed, and 16,351 injured.

These figures have proved that the dog is a menace to the wool and mutton industry in Ohio, says the official bulletin of the state department.

WILL CLOSE PLANT AND PAY OFF EMPLOYEES

No Primary Elections For Township Offices In 1913, Says Sec'y of State

Columbus, July 24.—From letters of inquiry received by Secretary of State Graves from many parts of the state, it is evident that a misapprehension exists in many counties as to the method of nominating candidates for township offices in townships with a population of 2000 or over.

Assistant Secretary of State, Seerest, in a prepared statment points out that this year the only method of nominating candidates for township offices in all townships, regardless of what their population may be, is by petition, and this petition must be filed with the county election board not later than 60 days prior to the November election.

The statement in part says:
"All candidates for township offices in any township, it matters not what its population may be, or for municipal offices in any municipality of less than two thousand population, can be nominated only by petition, signed in the aggregate for each candidate of not less than twenty-five qualified electors of the township or municipality."

"The names of all candidates for township offices in any township and for municipal offices in any municipality of less than two thousand, will be grouped under the designation or title of the office for which nominated, in alphabetical order according to surname upon the official ballot to be used at the November election, which ballot will contain no party designation. Even though a township contains a municipality, which municipality has a population of two thousand or over, candidates for township offices may be mentioned in such township by petition only."

Information from the Secretary of State to the Advocate today states that in Newark city there will be no primary elections other than for the nomination of municipal officers.

THE TRUTH AS TO THE WARNES BILL

One of the arguments used by the Ohio Tax Dodgers' association to aid its members in their fight to prevent the state taxing machinery being made an efficient agency for bringing personal property out of hiding and having it placed on the tax duplicate is that the Warnes bill, under which the reorganization is to be effected, means an extra expense to the tax payer.

The truth is the Warnes bill will reduce the annual cost of assessing property. The cost of the last quadrennial appraisal of real estate was $1,777,959, and the annual cost of assessing personal property under existing laws is $600,000, or an annual expenditure of more than a million dollars. Under the Warnes Bill the quadrennial appraisal of real estate is abolished, and both real and personal property will be appraised each year. One corps of assessors will do the work that two corps have been engaged in. With valuations kept up-to-date the necessary work will be diminished and that means less expense.

When the millionaire Tax Dodgers' Association are paying 5 to 10 cents a name for signatures to their referendum petitions, it is high time for all self-respecting citizens to refuse to sign any such petitions.

It now must be apparent, as was charged weeks ago by this not entirely stupid journal, that there never was any genuine demand for a submission of this act (workmen's compensation) to the people, says J. W. Faulkner in the Cincinnati Enquirer. This is shown by the enormous outlay of money and the desperate tactics employed to slap together the challenged petitions. Nor is there any such demand for the submission of the bills regulating the right of college students to vote at the seats of learning and to give the governor power to prepare a financial budget in advance of the meeting of the general assembly. These referendums are in charge of the Ohio State Board of Commerce, but just why there seems no logical explanation. The venture is made that, from the fact that peddlers now in hock were also securing names for these and other bills, the promoters were getting money wherever they could find it. In order to disgust the voters and to invite general opposition, these schemes proposed as many referendums as possible, trusting that the compensation bill would go down in the rack.

MEXICO'S ANARCHY.

The recurrence in Mexico of more aggravated disorder is what intelligent observers foresaw, and can be predicted indefinitely.

Surprise is often expressed that the Mexican "people" do not end an archly prohibitive of prosperity but no surprise is felt by those who know the Mexican people.

Uncle Sam's southernmost neighbors may roughly be divided into three classes. These are first the vast body of agricultural laborers or "peons." They are about as good foundation for democratic institutions as a nation of 10 year old school boys would be.

Then there are large land owners. These men are amiable, brave as lions, hospital to a fault. Some power of denomination has made them master, and poured the ripe fruit of Mexico's resources into their indolent laps. But in comprehension of business and government, they are not so very superior to their "peons."

They will put a lot of money into the finest threshing machine produced, and then return to the old fashioned, primitive method of treading out grains under the feet of their colts.

They will take a notion to go to Europe, place mortgages on their plantations, and forget to pay the interest. While they are gone the lands will be sold at foreclosure for a song. When their letter of credit gives out, they can't understand why they are beggars. Probably they become revolutionists.

The third class is the small body of well educated men, who are so far removed from their fellow citizens in thought and purpose as to have no influence.

Would that the strong hand of another Diaz might arise, to mould a people who are but clay in the hands of the potter!

"Milking" corporations, which consisted of inducing legislative tools to introduce bills detrimental to corporations and then compelling the latter to put up money to defeat such measures, was a favorite practice of lobbyists during legislative sessions of a few years ago. Since the passage of the Initiative and Referendum law the "milking" consists in proposing referendums and forcing corporations to purchase signatures.

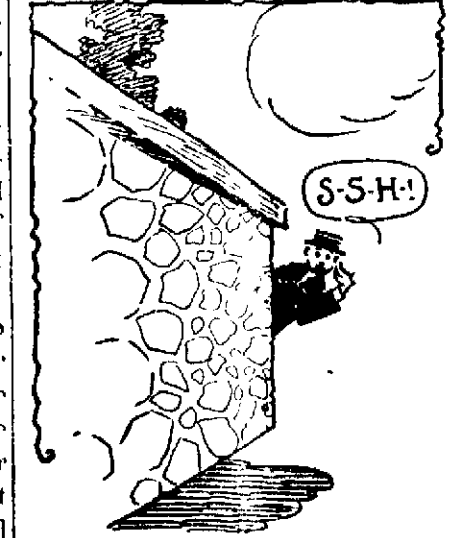

The reason for cutting out the muffler is not so much that it helps you get up the hills, as that it notifies the spectators to see how easily your machine climbs.

The public officials who don't go on the lecture platform may feel that the government should have all their time, but it may be that they couldn't get an audience.

Shocking revelations are expected of the politicians who put the money in their own pocket instead of using it honestly as they agreed to buy voters with.

Uncle Walt's Philosophy

Boasting.

I often think, while swatting flies, that it is neither safe or wise to boast of one's achievement; for fate may all our triumphs mock; so often loud and vaunting talk is followed by bereavement. It's very well to point with pride in manner modest, dignified—we all like admiration; to toot a horn in self defense is excellent—there is no sense in self depreciation. Uriah Heep and all his clan impart a pain to every man; we don't like folks too 'umble; nor do we like the ones who boast, who'd make themselves the reigning toast — we're glad to see them stumble. And stumble they are sure to do before their little trip is through, their luck some day grows lousy; the gods set traps for those who brag, who boast themselves and never flag until their jaws are weary. The boastful man, all chesty goes, a stream of bombast from him flows like water from the scuppers, and people, sizing up his plight, remark, "It serves the blamed fool right, when he is on his uppers. It we'd have sympathy and cheer when days of stress and grief are here, we should be meek and modest, so let us be serene and wise, and saw our wood, and swat the flies, and from them knock the sawdust."

Daddy's Bedtime Story—

Bill's Partner Was a Little Dog.

THE day had been warm, unusually warm, and in the evening light daddy sat with a large palm leaf fan in one hand and a glass of lemonade in the other, and in the lemonade was a large lump of ice that tinkled delightfully against the glass whenever daddy moved that hand.

"Had a good time today?" he asked as Jack and Evelyn came in.

The children answered that they had, and daddy settled down to talk to them.

"This lump of ice in my glass recalls the good times I used to have on hot days when I was a boy. One of my special friends was Bill, the Ice-man. Bill was a very fine fellow, and he liked me. There were some other boys that Bill did not care so much about. I believe they stole his ice when he went into houses.

"Bill did not mind a fellow taking a small lump of ice, and there were always plenty of pieces to be had when he broke and weighed a lump, but he did like the boys to ask for it.

"Sometimes Bill gave me rides on his wagon. One day when I was out with him, enjoying myself immensely with a lump of ice in my mouth and the reins of Bill's pair of fat, sleek horses in my hands, Bill told me a secret.

"I'm gettin' tired o' folks stealin' big lumps," Bill said. 'I'm goin' to take a pardner.'

"Um, are you, I replied. The sadness of Bill's voice made me think that I was expected to be sorry for him.

"An' he bites hard.' Then it dawned on me that perhaps the reason of Bill's low spirits was owing to the bad temper of his partner, for a partner who bit must be cross.

"The next morning when Bill's ice wagon stopped at our gate I was there to meet him.

"Bill's partner sat on the front seat. He greeted me with a how-wow-wow. That was his way of saying 'how do you do?' Bill's partner was a dog, you see.

"When I told Bill about my mistake, he asked, 'Why, didn't I say I was gettin' a dog?'

"No, Bill, you didn't,' I replied. And Bill went off into gales of laughter over my mistake.

"Bill's partner got to be a terror to the bad boys. No one except Bill dared touch the wagon when Mike, as the dog was called, sat on the front seat. But Mike and I soon got to be good friends."

OHIO SELECT LIST ELECTS OFFICERS

Columbus, July 24.—The annual meeting of the Select List of Ohio Daily Newspapers was well attended. The following officers were elected: Malcolm Jennings of Columbus, president; L. H. Brush, East Liverpool Review, vice-president; C. H. Spencer of the Newark Advocate, secretary, and R. C. Snyder of the Norwalk Reflector-Herald, treasurer. Besides the officers, the directors are John T. Mack of the Sandusky Register, W. O. Litterick of the Zanesville Times-Recorder, and L. A. Culbertson of the Mt. Vernon Republican-News.

Reports were heard from Robert Tomes, New York, the Eastern representative, and R. E. Ward, Chicago, the Western representative of the Select List. The contract for newspaper was awarded to the Canada Paper company of Toronto. The organization will meet again Sept. 6 at Cedar Point.

The Human Procession

Frank Wedekind, who has been called the Shakespeare, the Voltaire, and the George Bernard Shaw of German drama, and who is variously described as a angel and devil, herald of the dawn and imp of darkness, was born in Hanover forty-nine years ago today. As novelist, playwright and poet he is praised and damned, but never ignored. "In German literature today there is nothing as vile as the art of Frank Wedekind," in the opinion of one critic, Julius Hart. "The Messiah of the new freedom" is the label supplied by an admirer. Wedekind's career, before he became a literary lion, was a checked one. To please his father he studied law, but that profession had no attractions for him. Afterward he lived in the London world of Berlin, Paris and London, associating with all sorts of people in all varieties of places, lending his budding literary genius to the composition of advertisements for soap and soup, and displaying his histrionic talent in music halls, cabarets, circuses and fairs. He was twenty-seven when he wrote "Frühlingserwachen," known to Americans as "Spring's Awakening," the pitiful story of an innocent girl of fourteen whose first love affair ended in tragedy. A term in prison, the reward of a biting witicism directed against Emperor William, added to his fame. "The Box of Pandora" attracted the attention of the German Anthony Comstock, and the author was forced to expurgate certain passages in deference to public morals. One of the most interesting of Wedekind's works is "The Marquis of Keith." The hero of this drama is an engaging rogue, a sort of sublimated "Get-Rich-Quick Wallingford," a thorough rascal but a witty and enjoyable one.

It was just twenty years ago that Edward Frederic Benson jumped into fame as the author of "Dodo," and, although he has since written many more finished novels, he is still chiefly known by reason of his amusing but somewhat boyish and frivolous maiden effort. The novelist was born forty-six years ago today, the third son of the late Archbishop of Canterbury. He had two literary brothers, Prof. Arthur C. Benson of Cambridge, author of many volumes of essays, biographies and poems, and the Rev. Robert Hugh Benson, a Catholic priest, author of the widely read historical novel "Come Rack! Come Rope!" The legend that in "Dodo" Mr. Benson caricatured Miss Margat

BACKACHE A SYMPTOM

Of More Serious Illness Approaching. Mrs. Bender's Case.

Backache is a symptom of organic weakness or derangement. If you have backache don't neglect it. To get permanent relief you must reach the root of the trouble. Read about Mrs. Bender's experience.

St. James, Mo.—"About a year ago I was irregular, had cramps every month, headache and constant backache. I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and used the Sensitive Wash and I am relieved of all my troubles and am in perfect health. I shall recommend your medicine to all my friends and you may publish this testimonial for the benefit of other suffering women."—Miss ANNA BENDER, St. James, Missouri.

Another Case.

Dixon, Iowa.—"I have been taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for some time and it has done me much good. My back troubled me very much. It seemed weak. I had much pain and I was not as regular as I should have been. The Compound has cured these troubles and I recommend it to all my friends."—Mrs. BERTHA DIERCKMANN, Box 102, Dixon, Iowa.

If you have the slightest doubt that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will help you, write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (Confidential) Lynn, Mass., for advice. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman, and held in strict confidence.

Tennant, now Mrs. Asquith, still persists, although without basis of fact.

Sir Edward Austin Stewart-Richardson, fifteenth baronet, is chiefly famous as the husband of Lady Constance, exponent of bare-legged dancing and filmy draperies, and known as "the most unconventional woman in England." Sir Edward was born forty-one years ago today, and married Lady Constance Mackenzie, daughter of Francis, Earl of Cromartie, and granddaughter of the Duke of Argyll in 1904. The baronet's mother was a Canadian, the daughter of R. J. Cochrane of Halifax, Lady Constance's recent appearance on the New York variety stage was, she frankly explained, "to earn money, since both my husband and I are stony broke." She had the added object, however, "of teaching the people that classical dancing purifies the mind and tends to strengthen and perfect the body," and that "false modesty is idiotic and wicked." The titled dancer predicts that the feminine costume of the future will be "a loose flowing tunic showing the perfect lines of the form," which will also have the merit of being inexpensive.

CAMBRIDGE ACCIDENT WAS UNAVOIDABLE

Cambridge, July 24.—Coroner T. H. Rowles of Guernsey county, in his verdict in the collision of an interurban car with a B. & O. train, declares that the accident was unavoidable. Four persons were killed and fifteen injured. The coroner's finding says:

"After hearing the evidence of both the interurban and the B. & O. crews and of those who were passengers on the car, and on the B. & O. train as well as those who saw the accident, and after carefully considering all the facts and circumstances, it is my opinion it was an unavoidable accident."

"The evidence in my opinion, failed to show that anyone neglected to take the usual precaution to prevent the calamity, but that the continual flashes of lightning, the peals of thunder, and the down-pour of rain, prevented them from seeing or hearing the usual signals."

Engineer J. W. Glenn and Fireman R. C. Luscombe of Newark, O., were in charge of the train that struck the car.

Rid Your Children of Worms.

Etonian Cricketers Were

Flogged for Losing Game.

The first public school cricket match between Eton and Winchester was played on Hounslow Heath just 117 years ago come tomorrow, July 25, 1796.

Considered strictly as news, this item of information is a bit stale, and nobody could be expected to get wildly excited over it. Yet it has, or might have, a modern application to varieties of school and college sports.

The Etonian eleven was thoroughly and conclusively defeated in this contest. When they returned, did the headmaster console with them, saying, "Well, better luck next time?" Answer: He did not. He gave each and every one of the eleven the alternative of a sound flogging or expulsion from school in disgrace.

It is to the credit of those dead and buried Etonian lads that they replied to this challenge in unison: "Bring on the birch."

They were the happy days!

Administering floggings or "swishings" was the principal indoor sport of Eton headmasters, and it was the foundation of the school to the middle of the last century.

There is a tradition that on one occasion a headmaster whipped seventy boys at one session, giving each ten cuts with two birches, and was so worn out by the operation that he was laid up for a week or two.

During Dr. Keate's regime he flogged "half the ministers, bishops, generals and dukes of the century."

The Eton instruction of "swishing," so long an incentive toward athletic victories, was described by a journal of the time as "an operation performed on the naked back by the headmaster himself, who is always a gentleman, and sometimes a high dignitary of the church."

CO. G. BOYS ON RIFLE RANGE

HURBAUGH KIDDED WHEN HIS SHOOTING FAILS TO MAKE GOOD SCORE.

Slight indisposition sends several Newark Militiamen to Red Cross Aid.

(By George G. Whitehead.)
Camp Perry, July 24.—Back to the rifle range was the word for Co. G of Newark today. Wednesday the boys took part in battalion drill, along with Marysville, Circleville and Chillicothe companies. The Newark boys have been showing up well in target practice, some of the best work being done by Corporal Kilmer, Sergeant Burkett and Swick, John Yankee and Ted Yonase. Several members of the company have qualified for the 500-yard range and will shoot again later in the week. Capt. Priest has been setting a fine example on the range.

Several of the Newark boys have been on the sick list, but not with serious afflictions. Orville Ruski, hasn't been feeling the best in the world, and Corporal Thomas Trivette, also has been ailing. Quartermaster Sergeant Hurbaugh had his thumb lanced yesterday, and Fred Dunlap is doctoring a pair of blistered feet. No one is seriously sick or injured in the entire camp.

The Newark company is one of those that has escaped the guardhouse. The members have been on their good behavior and not an arrest has been made. That is more than can be said of some of the other companies.

Sergeant Beasley and Privates Layton, Lamp, Priest and Search have served turns on guard duty, and Search was taken off during his rounds because of slight indisposition.

When Capt. Hamilton of Columbus and Lieut. Miller of Delaware made the rounds for sanitary inspection today they found Company G's cook shack in fine shape. The ice box was as clean as a dollar and other equipment was equal to the best demands.

"Rox" Rogers was commended and the tent was branded as A-1. Camp stunts have been occupying the attention of the company each evening. Last night Sylvester Dase was sent to scum ten yards of guard line, and the task of securing a tripod wrench was assigned to Leroy Walker and Harry Jones. Others were "ramped in" for the guard line and other army life diversions. When the boys are not swimming or enjoying the clubhouse features, they are sending the "bookies" after reveille oil or kerosene.

The Newark company is one of those that has escaped the guardhouse. The members have been on their good behavior and not an arrest has been made. That is more than can be said of some of the other companies.

bers of Co. G who are kept busy. Yesterday Capt. Priest and Lieut. DeFrieze and Stauffer attended officers' school in the large mess hall at the southeast corner of the camp field, and the non-commissioned officers of the company heard Captain Taylor of the regular army hand out a few pointers. The boys are having lots of sport with Quartermaster Sergeant Hurbaugh at the expense of his record as a marksman. He was on the range yesterday and had exceedingly poor luck in connecting with a good score. He was on the 500-yard range and after trying his hand several times returned to camp to give his optics a vacation. He expects to make another try for a creditable score.

MEDIATION

tary Bryan also probably will be asked to take up Mexican affairs with the committee. Proposals for mediation repeal of the restrictions against the shipments of arms and of President Wilson's alternate plan, for rigid enforcement of neutrality, were discussed among senators today, but no definite plan of action received approval. Many members of the foreign relations committee consider the situation impossible, because of the many factions in Mexico and the difficulties that would attend any effort to supervise elections.

(Associated Press Telegram.)
Washington, July 24.—President Wilson has determined that no faction in the present Mexican revolution shall obtain arms or ammunition from the United States and that neutrality must be observed in its strictest sense. This was the interpretation of the neutrality laws decided upon by the president after conferences with Senator Bacon and Representative Flood, chairmen of the two congressional committees on foreign relations. While the Mexican rebels have been getting no arms heretofore, yesterday's developments mean that the Huerta administration will be deprived of the privilege previously granted the Madero government and that the United States will treat all sides alike in the present dispute.

The situation was precipitated by the repeated complaints of the constitutionalists and their sympathizers in this country that if the United States did not virtually assist the Huerta government by selling it munitions of war a termination of hostilities would be possible. Sentiment in favor of a new policy grew in Congress to such extent that yesterday a canvass was made of the foreign relations committees in both houses dealing with foreign relations. It was found that there would be little objection to repealing the joint resolution of March 14, 1912, giving the president discretionary power to prohibit exportation of arms or munitions of war to countries where domestic violence existed, but permitting him to allow the legally constituted government of any country to buy war supplies as usual.

Senator Bacon, however, reiterated as he left the White House that the Huerta administration could not be considered a legitimate successor of the Madero regime or a legally constituted government. The constitutionalist representatives here had protested to the state department that inasmuch as the Huerta government had not been recognized, it ought not to obtain arms. This construction of the case found favor in official circles, and while the repeal of the resolution of March 14, 1912, was considered by administration officials as one way of equalizing conditions, it was decided that the same purpose could be observed by denying ammunition to all factions. There is, nevertheless, a firm feeling in Congress in favor of lifting the embargo on arms and giving both sides an equal opportunity to equip themselves.

This sentiment finds favor especially among those who believe that the Carranza rebels have public opinion behind them in Mexico, and if given the arms with which to supply their large unequipped forces, the revolution would end speedily in their favor. For the present, the administration will issue orders to its agents everywhere to keep arms from entering the rebellion-torn country. This will interfere materially with the plans of the Huerta forces, since orders for large supplies of arms, ammunition and other supplies have been placed with firms in the United States very recently. Although the constitutionalists hold no reports of consequence, they have demoralized the railroad systems, and it would be difficult for the liberals to get munitions transported into the interior after importing them from Europe.

(Associated Press Telegram.)
Washington, July 24.—Supporting Postmaster General Burleson in his proposed extension of parcel post service, Representative Lewis, one of the authors of the parcel post law, today declared that sooner or later the government must take over transportation of all parcels up to 100 pounds. Representative Lewis contended that under the law the postmaster general has complete authority to increase the weight limit on parcel post business and be assisted the railroads for their support of the express companies in opposing Postmaster General Burleson's order.

LITTLE GIRL SWALLOWS LONG DARNING NEEDLE

Although a two and a half inch darning needle is traveling through her body, 14-year-old Bernice George, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward J. George of Bowers avenue, east Newark, is romping about at play with neighborhood children, in absolute disregard of the fate that may be in store for her.
It was a week ago Sunday that the girl was holding a darning needle between her teeth when she was called by her father, and in her haste to respond to his call she jumped from her chair and swallowed the needle before she realized what had happened.
The family was instantly in a turmoil of excitement. Drs. J. W. Barker and W. B. Nye were summoned and they expressed themselves as utterly at a loss to offer relief, except, perhaps, by a surgical operation. Soon after swallowing the needle the child felt sharp pains in the lower portion of the esophagus, but these soon left and since that time she has experienced practically no inconvenience, say the neighbors.
One of the physicians advised the child to eat a quantity of mashed potatoes, which would form the wall of protection of shielding the membranes of the food passages and preventing rest forming on the needle. The advice was followed.
Physicians say the needle may travel in the girl's body for years and perhaps all of her life without giving serious trouble, but that eventually it may come out at some point on the surface of the skin. Such cases are quite familiar to medical authorities. It is said, but in any event they are regarded as extremely serious.
The George girl has been eating heartily, sleeping well and exercising as usual, despite the traveling needle.

dent I was more than ever confident of complete success in Washington this winter."
Writing to General Manager Bird, Mulhall said:
"We intend to start more hell in Baltimore among the politicians than has ever started there before." The letter explained that the fight was to be made on William H. Stone, collector of customs and spoke of Stone's friendliness to "labor agitators."
On February 7, Mulhall wrote Secretary Schwedman that the eight hour bill was pretty well cornered in the sub-labor committee of the house and there was danger.
He wrote Kirby on the same subject: "Gardner named his sub-committee as Mr. Gardner and I had agreed. Vreeland and Madison, Republicans; Rainey and Covington, Democrats. We feel that if the bill goes to this sub-committee there will be no danger for the rest of this session."
February 10 Mulhall wrote Kirby about senators to be elected:
"Dick of Ohio has sought our aid; Scott of West Virginia; Dewey of New York; and Carter of Montana."
"Of course we have had Aldrich on our list for the last nine months."
Mulhall testified Carter never asked aid from the manufacturers but suggested a personal visit by Mulhall to Montana.
In May, 1910, Mulhall's letters told of his going to the Sixth New Jersey Congressional district to help re-elect John J. Gardner, once opposed by the manufacturers. Mulhall swore Gardner had "surrendered completely" and that in consequence he had gone to this district to help him. Mulhall visited manufacturers and was particularly anxious to help with 4,000 employees of the Reading Iron Works at Trenton.
About the same time Schwedman wrote Mulhall he was needed to aid Harry Al. Conroy in his fight for the congressional nomination in Missouri.

FIREMAN KNOCKED FROM ENGINE CAB INTO CREEK BED

(Associated Press Telegram.)
Dayton, O., July 24.—Grover Spencer, fireman on No. 94 Pennsylvania train, was knocked from the cab of the engine three miles west of the city this morning and dropped into the waters of Wolf creek, 30 feet below, as the result of leaning from the engine cab while watching a "hot box" that had been causing a good deal of trouble during the run. The accident occurred on the second bridge and was discovered shortly after it happened by Conductor Jenner. The train was backed to the bridge and the lifeless body fished from the waters.
